

The Multidimensional Aspect of Equality

Equality extends beyond mere similarity or sameness.

Equality shouldn't be narrowed down to being identical or alike. It encompasses equity, which implies fairness. It recognizes our different needs, choices, potential limitations and capacities, and ensures that everyone gets an equal opportunity to flourish and partake in societal benefits. It acknowledges the modifier of 'fairness' and aims to provide equal opportunities rather than produce similar outcomes.